

SEA GIRT CAMP
WATER-SOAKED.Heavy Rain Drives Some of the Men From Their Quarters.

MATCH FOR WIMBLEDON CUP

Big Event for $500 Trophy Scheduled to Be Shot This Afternoon.

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 29.—A steady rain drizzled into the faces of the riflemen when they crawled out of their water-soaked tents this morning after three days of intermittent showers. The storm opened last evening and continued steadily all night, driving some of the men out of their quarters. The Ohio team, for instance, had to move. The contestants spent the early forenoon praying for the rain to dry up for a while.

The big event on the program for the third day at the tournament of the National and New Jersey Rifle associations and the United States Revolver Association is the Wimbledon long-distance match—one of the most spectacular events of the two weeks' shoot. The Wimbledon match, for the long-distance championship of the United States is for the $500 cup presented to the National Rifle Association by the National Rifle Association of Great Britain. The contest is open to all citizens and residents of the United States. Each contestant fires twenty shots at the big bullseyes lined up against the ocean sky line, with any rifle and any ammunition and at any position without an artificial rest. The winner also gets a medal and $25. There are also cash prizes for the second, third, and fourth best contestants.

New Jersey captured the Wimbledon cup last year, Lieut. W. A. Tewes, of the First regiment, scoring 84 out of the possible 100. Lieutenant Casey, then of New York, won of Delaware, was second, at 73, and Capt. C. B. Winder, of Ohio, third, at 71. Private S. G. Sayre, of the Fifteenth infantry, was tenth, at 74. For the District of Columbia the leader was Sergt. C. E. Groome, who was fifteenth, with 71.

Previous Winners of Cup.

Dr. George E. Cook, of Maryland, formerly of the District Guard, won the coveted cup in 1894, while Capt. W. H. Richard, of Ohio, carried off the honors in 1893, with the record score of 91. Dr. Cook being third at 83, Corp. E. J. Fink, of the District, fourth at 88, and Lieut. W. M. Farrow, also of the District, fifth at 88. In 1892 Private H. M. Bell, formerly of the District, now of the New Jersey guard, was second, and Private S. B. Wetherland, third. Dr. S. P. Scott, of Maryland, was the winner in 1891 and 1894, and Lieut. W. M. Farrow in 1890.

The other match specially scheduled for today is the two company teams of three, the members not to have been on a winning team in any match at Sea Girt before this year. The conditions are five shots at 200 and 500 yards. The U. S. S. Hancock won in 1905 by a score of 135, with F. of the Third Pennsylvania, second. The Second troop, of New York, won in 1904, and F. of the Fifth Maryland, in 1903.

Winner of the Hale Trophy.

New Jersey celebrated last night over Lieut. W. A. Baker's victory in the Hale trophy match. The win was a joy in Jersey street over the lieutenant and his perfect score. Massachusetts, which drew first blood on Monday in the company team match, took second honors with Private F. W. Allen's 89, while the infantry took third with Capt. F. A. Graham's 86, and the District was stopped at 80.

The District secured only one place in the first twenty-five, Ohio got five, Massachusetts four, New Jersey five, the army one, the cavalry one, and the marine corps two. The twenty-five leaders were:

Second Lieut. W. A. Baker, 4th N. J., 90.

Dissatisfaction in Camp.

With the delay in running off the matches caused by the inefficient manipulation of the targets, there is a great deal of dissatisfaction in camp today. There was considerable irritation on Monday, but yesterday's delays were a bit too much for the patience of the contestants. The marking and scoring is being done by members of the Twenty-third Infantry. The Leech Cup match was not finished last night until dark, and one of the team captains said: "If the targets were managed properly we should have been through at least an hour sooner." To push the end of an important match into the dark—that has aroused the camp.

The fact seems to be that each firing point should be connected with its target by telephone, as is the case at the District's range. Here at Sea Girt call for "mark" such and such a target is often repeated several times. The marker has gone to sleep," exclaims the nearest contestant. The District contestants in the Leech match yesterday suffered a good deal from

HYATTSVILLE BANK
PROMOTES RALSTONWashington Lawyer Succeeds the Late Francis H.
Smith as President.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Aug. 29.—The directors of the First National Bank of this place at their last meeting elected Jackson H. Ralston to the presidency of that institution, a position left vacant by the death of the late Francis H. Smith, of Washington.

E. Quincy Smith, a son of the late president, was chosen vice president, and will succeed Mr. Ralston, who has held that position since the inception of the bank. No change was made in the directorate. The stock controlled by the late president is now owned and will be retained by his heirs.

The nucleus of a local company of the Maryland National Guard was formed last evening in the rooms of the Hyattsville Independent Club at the McDermott building. About twenty-five applicants were obtained at that time, and John McCormick, Jr., anticipates no trouble in obtaining the forty necessary men in the near future. In his address to the members Mr. McCormick emphasized the necessity of haste in securing the requisite number, as the citizens of Brentwood are endeavoring to form a similar organization, and there is a vacancy for only one company from this district.

ANGRY VICTIMS READY TO KILL BANK OFFICERS

No Suspicion Before Hipple's Death.

Not the slightest suspicion of any weakness of the institution was entertained in financial circles prior to Mr. Hipple's sudden death, but within a few hours thereafter the disclosure was made that through Mr. Hipple the bank had made loans to Adolph Segal alone to the enormous amount of $5,000,000. The enormity of the transaction with Mr. Segal was known to the directors by any other of the bank officers, as Mr. Hipple had kept the details a secret.

In addition to the Segal loans there were others of about $2,000,000 that had been carried by the president without the knowledge of the directors. There are no indications this morning that the Real Estate Trust Company suspension has disturbed other banks and trust companies. There has been some shifting of accounts among trust companies, but no particular importance attaches to this. It is stated positively that no other institution is involved in any way with the Real Estate Trust operations. A banker says that the only way in which other institutions might be affected would be in holding Real Estate Trust Company stock as collateral for loans, but this would be in such small amounts as to be trifling.

Hipple's Will to Be Filed.

With the filing of the will of the late Frank K. Hipple today or tomorrow it is expected that additional light will be thrown on one of the biggest financial scandals in Philadelphia has ever known. Wharton Hipple, his only son and possible executor of whatever may remain of his father's estate, is supposed to have stated that his father's last testament will be filed immediately.

His opinion is that for the good of all concerned it is best to get at the bottom of everything as soon as possible," said Mr. Hipple this morning. "I will therefore do everything to hasten matters."

The dead financier's son declared that he was aware of the details in which his father was involved, saying that he was merely a clerk in the employ of the now defunct trust company over which his father presided.

He also said that he had no knowledge of the rumored deals between his father and Adolph Segal concerning the latter's business enterprises.

DEFEAT BROUGHT BANKHEAD HONORSStands Good Chance to Wear Pettus' or Morgan's Toga.

When Richmond Pearson Hobson torpedoed the Congressional career of Representative John H. Bankhead, and sent that statesman to the bottom of the ocean of oblivion for the time being, he was doing Mr. Bankhead a distinguished favor, though it was a bit difficult for the defeated statesman to see it in just that light at the moment. Synthy for the veteran so unexpectedly routed from his seat has resulted in Mr. Bankhead being overwhelmingly nominated in the Alabama primaries as first "alternate" for Senator. That means—and it is a most interesting innovation that Alabama is trying—that if one of the Senators, Morgan and Pettus, who are both over eighty years old, should drop out and leave a vacancy, Mr. Bankhead is to be named for the vacancy. Mr. Bankhead would seem to be nearer to a Senatorial promotion than he ever was before in his life.

VARIED PROGRAM FOR MARINE BAND

In arranging his program for the regular concert at the Marine Barracks at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Lieutenant Santolme has included the Tchaikowsky overture, "1812," one of the most celebrated works of the famous composer. Strauss' waltz, "Tales from the Vienna Woods," is another conspicuous number on the program and Chapin's "Moorish Suite," which is not often heard here, will undoubtedly prove interesting to music lovers. The entire program is as follows:

March, "With Shot and Shell," Hilsen.
Grand Overture Solenne, Tchaikowsky.
Serenade, "Spring Morning," Lacombe.
Carnival, "Mardi Gras," Lacombe.
(Arranged for Military Band by Lieut. W. H. Santolme.)
Maiden Jacques L. Vauquaire.
Waltz, "Tales from the Vienna Woods," Strauss.
Moorish suite, "The Courts of Granada," Chapin.
